

OTIS Scavenger Hunt

Instructions: Use the following activity for a quick brain break or a fun way to introduce your next lesson. There are a variety of ways to play!

- Print and cut the pencils then hide them on a number of objects of your choosing. What story can they tell? For example, the following image depicts the introduction of a unit on coastal erosion and beach replenishment.

- Have students search, find, try to solve the puzzle, and discuss!
- You can also choose a number of items that students need to find and sequence, such as an order of events or stages in a process.
- The possibilities are endless!
